

left for several weeks' vacation. He was relieved by Operator Stone.

We are glad to report that Operators Henson, Dixon, Mahaney and Strafford have returned to work, after being off several weeks due to sickness.

Homer Deberry, cashier telegrapher, Marshfield, spent several days on the river.

The good old Ozark strawberries are coming in now. May 11 we had a strawberry special, with twenty-three cars of berries enroute for St. Louis and beyond.

Agent Musgrave Strafford is off duty, attending the O. R. T. convention at St. Louis.

Operator Brockman, first trick, Rolla, was successful bidder on third trick MS office, Springfield.

Operator Stevens, second trick, South-eastern Junction, was successful bidder on third trick, Leasburg.

GENERAL STOREKEEPER'S OFFICE—SPRINGFIELD

STELLA COMEGYS, Reporter

We are glad to report that Alice Edmondson, who has been in the hospital for some time, is improving. We hope she will soon be able to be at her desk again.

The girls at the general storeroom enjoyed another spread April 21. There was only one objection to it,—they had the spread in the absence of the reporter.

A. J. Sperry has reached his second childhood, or at least we suppose he has, as he has the chickenpox and has been absent three or four days.

C. R. Meddins, clerk in this office, is on a leave of absence and is going to Colorado for his health. We hope he will come back after his leave of absence with his health greatly improved.

We are sorry to report that Maude Bedell has had to go to the hospital in St. Louis. Although Maude is in a serious condition we have hopes of her recovery. If good wishes will help her any, she should have a speedy recovery because the entire force in the general storekeeper's office are wishing her the very best.

Miss Bertha Reed entertained the girls of the general store department with a progressive rook party, on Friday night the fifteenth of April. High score was won by Elizabeth Gibson and consolation prize by Henrietta Truman. Guest prize was given to Mrs. Wettman, sister of the hostess.

Along with Spring comes bugs and bees. Of the various kinds of bees, Clyde Fullerton and Clifford Kincaid have been stung by the most expensive kind. The car bug stung them and they are both riding in new cars now instead of walking.

FREIGHT ACCOUNTING DEPT. AGENTS' ACCOUNTS DEPT. ST. LOUIS, MO.

ARTHUR STOEHR, Reporter

There is a new reporter on the job and you had better get acquainted. The pencil pushers of publications are always looking for a good story.

We regret exceedingly that our dear co-worker Miss Lilly Kulage has dropped out of journalism, her timely squibs were always enjoyed by all in the agents accounts department.

Miss Blossom Christopher, ticket cashier at Caruthersville, Mo., dropped in to see us while in St. Louis.

The sensation of the season was the revelation of the evident intention of our chief clerk Mr. Gerdel to break into the select circle of 400. The fact became known by the presence of a silk sock salesman.

Charley Egli's pulse has not been normal for at least two weeks, seems to be worrying about taking on a "better half." Charley!! why not consult with your colleagues who have gone through the mill? Nevertheless, we all offer our congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Egli.

Traveling auditor Charley Drebellis, dropped in for a short while the other day—says he was caught in high water at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Evidence of high water marks were apparent on his trousers.

The many friends of Miss Julia E. Hynes, formerly connected with the agents accounts department "Frisco" now located in California the "Land of the Orange and the Home of the Nut," were indeed glad to receive her message of Easter greetings.

Steve Kane is looking them over. Of course that's his job—the 391 reports, but that is not all—Steve is looking toward the bright side of life—the old bachelor will surprise us one of these days—so don't rush!

F. L. & D. CLAIM DEPARTMENT SPRINGFIELD, MO.

CHARLENE WILLARD, Reporter

Kathryn Hurt of the dictaphone department spent one week on her mother's farm near Greenfield, Mo. She had a fine time assisting in the strawberry picking.

Tom Quinn and Leo Barrett are vacationing in Washington, D. C., Boston, Montreal and Quebec. They have been over the same territory before, but Canada as usual, holds some sort of fascination for them.

Gertrude Fryer attended the state convention of the Knights of Columbus at Kansas City, May 17 and 18.

Claude Harris motored to Campbell, Mo., week of May 23 and enjoyed a few days of his vacation visiting with relatives in Southeast Missouri.

Angeline Golden has been spending a month in Detroit, Mich., visiting with relatives.

L. C. Cox and Earl Head are all prepared for a delightfully cool summer. They recently bade farewell to their moustaches to which they had become slaves for the last eight or ten months.

Here is a boost for the Chevrolet people! Just recently W. Shumate traded his Dodge coupe for a Chevrolet sedan and seems to be highly pleased with his new car.

Mr. Cox, chief claim clerk, has just returned from a business trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. He visited most all of our patrons on the coast and reports a very friendly feeling on the part of shippers toward the Frisco service.

On the evening of May 16, the Bull Dog Baseball Club, composed of the crack players of the claim department, played the combined picked men of the other offices. It is rumored that Tony Gilbert, catcher, threatened to resign account Pop Pursley, umpire, being so big that he could not throw around him to second base. If interested in the outcome of the game, see Harold Wilkes, local manager.

There is not much in the news line as this goes to press. Everybody is working to make the 1927 Frisco Veterans' reunion the largest and most enjoyable in the history of the Association. Let's boost the reunion all we can. If you know of a veteran who does not belong, get after him! To date, May 16, we have over 900 men enrolled and confidently expect to have 1500 by June 6 and 7, the dates of the reunion.

Bill Warden of the OS&D department, is spending his vacation at Graydon Springs, Mo. It was with considerable difficulty that he prepared for his vacation. It seems as if the Warden household possesses three high class house cats and it was quite a problem to Bill to make provisions for the cats while vacationing, so at the last minute he decided to make a box and take the beloved cats with him on his vacation. When the box was completed and the none-too-gentle felines were placed therein, someone said "Hokus pokus" and upon lifting the lid of the box, the cats had vanished! However, after several hours' delay, they were later found and one dutiful neighbor took pity on Mr. Warden and promised to feed them dally while he was away on his trip.

BESSIE G. MARMADUKE, Reporter

We all miss Miss Louise Terry, who bid in a position at the St. Louis Zone Office. We have heard she is well satisfied with the change and that Messrs. Schoenberg and Wentz are now closely associated with her in her new duties.

A certain party in the interline department living on Keokuk Street painted his fence the other afternoon and when another party from the office happened along he thought it was a barrel of paint moving around the yard. A report has been sent out this same party is going to use a support for his triple chin to rest upon.

Fred Knickmeyer evidently cares very little for shredded wheat and cream for breakfast, and we see he is stepping out with his last year's straw.

Bob Anslin of the interline department and his night hawk trio of WIL were booked to appear at the Cinderella Show but being informed of the great distance from home and the show having no rear exit they decided to stay at the Maplewood, so in case the audience laid down a barrage they would not have so far to run.

Our contributor from the statistical department submits the following:

Because the men in the statistical department were not "put on" in last month's magazine, they felt more or less slighted and of course were accused by the girls. Hope this will clear them and prove their innocence.

Can you imagine—

Mr. Schaub not tending to his business.

George Kendall not thinking he is the most important man in the office.

Frank Hambly not being our own John Gilbert.

Robert Pennycook fat, jovial and forty.

Pat Hayes keeping his feet on the floor for three successive minutes.

Bob Carr shaving every day.

Mr. Jarrell cook in a Child's restaurant.

Mr. Haley staying with us permanently (we hope so).

Mr. Williams not wearing a coat.

By the way:

Agnes King plans a trip to Louisville over Decoration Day.

Theresa Mucher would like to know who thinks she's so "darn tall."

Elsa Blitt doesn't intend to succumb to the bobbed hair craze.

Dorohty Schicht is faithfully dieting and steadily losing her avoirdupois.

Helen Auman is still being herself (hasn't told his name as yet).

Theresa Hentschel and Fanny Payne haven't displayed anything recently for their hope boxes (hope you don't feel hurt, girls).

George Kendall asked Lucille Cicotte who "It" was.

The gods were unkind to Elsie Recks the day the magazine came out. Her school girl complexion was marred by strawberry rash.

Margaret Droste wonders who dares say she is fickle when she so faithfully wears her fraternity pin.

Norine Conway agreed that for her to do the Black Bottom would be a calamity, nevertheless she says she may try and accomplish the feat.

Julie Ritchie would like to wear her dresses knee length but she's afraid she'll corrupt our morals.

Ann Silhavy has started to eat grapes, nuts and brick cheese to bring her near the 160 pound mark.

Mary Lou Carrio is still Mary Lou.

Another little daughter arrived at the home of Robert Kunstel on May 4, and has been named Eleanor Marie.

Dorothy Johnson of the key punch department has returned after an absence of six weeks due to illness. We are glad to have her back but regret losing Lwellynne Sendlein who had occupied a temporary position and was transferred back to the file room.

A. V. Foster of the revising department went to Louisville for the Derby and had an enjoyable time—his horse was second. Better luck next time.

M. N. Lallinger had a good time at the dance given recently by the B. A. R. E. and seemed to enjoy blowing balloons.

D. M. Rennick of the claim department bought a new pipe to satisfy fellow workers but had very little success. It must be the tobacco!

Harold A. Doerr of the claim department recently underwent an operation on his toe. He is doing very well now.

John Geekie of the claim department says—"It's not the cough that carries you off—it's the undertaker."

Howard Goode was recently released from the hospital and reports feeling much improved—"Jerry" Davies is still at the hospital at this writing and appreciated the remembrance sent him of fruit.

He is much improved, sitting up and believes he will be able to be out in the near future.

I. A. Johnson of the recheck department, called one of the four horsemen, has been putting in so much overtime the last month resulting in his money accumulating so fast he has not found time to spend it. No doubt he will soon be driving down in a new "Henry" with the idle rich.

A. H. Tichenor made a trip out of the city Sunday, May 15, and before departing sported a new straw hat for the occasion. As this was the first in our office we believe he is convinced it pays to look prosperous.

ALTA NORTHCUTT, Reporter

On Friday, May 13, the Frisco officials and employes were honored in that the Abou Ben Adhem Shriners of Springfield dedicated their spring ceremonial to the Frisco. Some of the out-of-town officials who attended were J. E. Hutchison and H. W. Hudgen of St. Louis; J. M. Flanigan, Kansas City; S. J. Frazier and J. F. Ferguson, Enid; John Forster, Kansas City; W. A. Morgan, Sherman; and R. G. Kaufman of Monett. One of the features of the parade was a small locomotive built on an automobile chassis and lettered "Frisco No. 13". Mr. Hutchison and several other Frisco officials rode into the Shrine Mosque in the tender of this locomotive, after which all Frisco officials present were introduced to the members of the Shrine. They were welcomed by attorney Perry T. Allen, and Mr. Hutchison responded in a very pleasing manner.

After the ceremonial, Albert Kennedy Roswell, a humorist and philosopher of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania entertained the Shriners and ladies with a pleasing sketch, "The Joy of Living." This was followed by a grand parade and ball which was well attended by representatives of the Frisco.

June 6 and 7 will be gala days in Springfield; for it is then that the Frisco Veterans will make their annual journey here. Those in this office who are eligible to attend the old veteran's reunion are

C. E. McKenzie, S. P. Tobias, F. S. Routh and F. M. Ferbrache.

D. L. Forsythe has just returned from Chicago where he attended a fuel convention. He reports a most splendid and interesting meeting and says the Frisco was well represented.

Armed with a rod, our shop supervisor, J. C. Brekenfeld, recently searched out the depths of the best fishing holes along White River for a fishing excursion.

Although he still looks rather pale, Harry Hines is back at his desk again, after an absence of two or three weeks due to illness.

J. K. Gibson has a new Peerless 6-9—large and commodious enough for any man's private car.

Hazel Clark is minus a pair of tonsils and has great hopes that she will have a sore throat less often in future.

Herschel McNally, accompanied by George Neff, a clerk in Mr. Doggrell's office, drove a car through to Granada, Colorado for Herschel's uncle. They left Springfield at noon Saturday and arrived at Granada about nine P. M. Sunday.

Of all the odd accidents, that experienced by J. W. Seabough recently seems paramount. J. W. went out to work in the garden, took one lick with the hoe and up flew a clod and hit him in the eye. Maybe you think "Doc" didn't have one black eye.

Our office boy, Wesley J. Shane seems to be having great success with his baseball team. The "Blue's," of which "Bill" is manager expect to rival the Cardinals by the time the world series begins. Bill says they will eventually play in the world series, so why not now?
