The Fort Smith Development Company

Located at Fort Smith, Ark., R. D. Yoakum, brother of B. F. Yoakum, president, is promoting a new town in Oklahoma. The townsite is located across the Arkansas State line and just over the corporate limits of Fort Smith. Excellent opportunities are to be found there for attractive homes and residences. An electric line will connect the property with Fort Smith. For further particulars write to

The Correct Time from Washington & One of My Watches are Constant Companions

One of the most important factors in railroading today is a good watch. I sell the best that skill and science can produce. Not the kind that is bumped over the country in traveling salesmen's trunks and ruined before they reach you. But the fine new bright kind direct to me from the Factory. No Watch passes through my hands without a critical examination. Close rating, and a thorough test for precision.

In my new Catalogue I lay before you the highest grades of all the movements manufactured in America, with a detailed description and fine illustration of each and every one that will pass inspection on any R. R. Also a big assortment of cases adapted for R. R. usage. Along with a fine selection of chains and R. R. order emblems. This catalogue free. And on any article you buy from me, I'll save you money. Write today and see how quick it will reach you.
