

should get his spouse for Christmas. Last Christmas he got her a sack of flour, and she only played Santa Claus to the extent of a peck of potatoes, so this Christmas he is giving her a green and purple silk petticoat, which, Ann Hickey says, it will be impossible to wear out (especially on the street).

Since Garfield has issued an order not to use lights any more than necessary, Herman is feeding the baby garlic so he can find him in the dark.

Monett Jim Basham, the shimmying tariff clerk, has offered to teach "Red" Thomas the Hominy Glide, which Jim claims will make "Red" ace high in the dancing annals of West Plains.

If fur collars make a banker's son, "Red" Thomas' author controls a syndicate. "Red" has spread propaganda in West Plains that he was a banker's doted child, and to really make appearances and propaganda coincide he has indulged in a fur collar which he has industriously sewed on his army coat.

It has been rumored that our efficient editor, Mawton E. Leyer (Lawton E. Meyer), has entered the ranks of the oil magnets (magnates) and has purchased a block (not solid ivory) of "O. K." oil stocks. The rumor has been circulated that the company has hit three new wells (very wells) and are about to declare a dividend of two clothes pins for each $100.00 par value of stock, and Lawton, to show his love for his home (which he sees once in a while) has decided to contribute his ANNUAL DIVIDEND to his mother to be used to retain on the clothes line all of the silk shirts he will be enabled to purchase when he gets rich through the sale of his stock, which is now quoted at $1.25 and was sold to Lawton for $1.75. It is the general understanding in the office that when the market value is five cents a share, three shares for a dime, that Lawton will sell out and retire (retire his scissor-grinding cart). The office force, having read of the sale of the North Pole by Galileo Grubins to a farmer of Minneapolis, Kan., named Homer Hogarth, have recommended Lawton to Galileo Grubino as a bright prospect for purchase of his "get-rich-quick" schemes. SAVE SHINGLE ROOFS

Every dollar saved is a dollar made, so why not repair and paint those shingle roofs before it is too late?

It will take a very small amount to repair and put them in first-class condition, then a coat of Empire Paint will double the life of the roofs.

It is only necessary to remove the split shingles, the paint will straighten all of the shingles that are warped; and they will not warp again in the future. This will prevent blowing off also, as the shingles will hold down tight.

Sweep out the gutters and valleys and paint them also, as Empire Paint will give absolute protection against rust on metal for 5 years from date of application.

The life of composition roofing also can be renewed with one coat of Empire Paint, as it refills the fabric and makes the roofing as good as new.

Read the printed instructions which you can get from your General Foreman, or write to Empire Paint & Contracting Co., Birmingham, Alabama, and have them sent directly to you.—Adv.
